

Ofer Gadi Stolarov - Pianist

www.stolarov.com

ofer@stolarov.com

(+49) 0 1578 579 2204

Runzstraße 21

79102 Freiburg im Breisgau

Germany

Winner and finalist of “Karl Edler Wettbewerb” (Germany), “Classic on Danube” (Austria), “Piano Forever” (Israel), “Kalmi” (Israel) and more, Ofer Gadi Stolarov is a young Israeli pianist who during his musical career, played with Alicante orchestra (Spain), Jens Symphonic Orchestra (Germany), Ashdod Symphonic orchestra (Israel), Haifa symphonic Orchestra (Israel) and more. He is the senior of the Eldwell Center for young talented pianists in Jerusalem which include master classes conducted by leading international musician such as Marry Perahia, Robert Levin, Arie Vardi among others. He performs regularly in the Jerusalem Music Center which broadcast live concerts in the Israeli Classical Music Radio. Ofer has performed as a soloist in Germany, Italy, Poland, Netherland, USA, and Lithuania. Since 2012 he is supported by America-Israel Cultural Foundation and graduated member of “Live Music Now” Hannover. He is an active musician playing in chamber groups and special projects including historical and contemporary music. For 3 years he served in the IDF as an “Outstanding Musician” and at the same time began his bachelor’s degree in the Jerusalem Music Academy. He studied with Asia Litvak, Alexandra Burstein, Yaron Rosental, Daria and Vadim Monastersky and graduated the Bachelor and master’s degree of performing arts at the HMTMH (Hannover Music Academy) at the class of Prof. Kupiec. Currently Ofer is a student of the advance degree of performing art (Soloklasse/Konzertexam) at the MHF (Music Academy Freiburg) at the class of Prof. Rimmer.